Priorities of Leukemia Texas when approving Patient Aid:

(Priorities are not a determination of approval or denial, but a tool for our committee to evaluate our applicants based on our mission and patient needs)

- Leukemia Texas was founded to assist patients across Texas, specifically with a leukemia diagnosis of any type. Due to the wide scope of the population that is affected by leukemia, we as an organization, do our best to serve those in greatest need, while understanding that all leukemia patients are in need of some sort or another.
- Leukemia Texas requests that all applicants provide as much information as possible on their application to give our Program Committee the best idea of how their leukemia diagnosis has affected them financially. In the narrative, please provide a description of the current financial state the patient is in due to the diagnosis:
 - Provide information about what financial strains are put on the patient due to the current treatment plan they are or will be going through.
 - Provide information on any other obstacles that are now adding to the financial strain due to the leukemia diagnosis.
- Leukemia Texas and the Program Committee will look at all information provided in the patient's application to determine their priority when compared to all other applications submitted:
 - Leukemia Texas priority for patients:
 - Priority will be given to those patients that have expressed a financial need based on the treatment they will undergo requiring 100+ visits to the hospital for treatment
 - Priority will also be given to those that may require travel of longer distances to receive their therapy, incurring higher expenses due to the length of travel, cost of parking or even multiple overnight stays during treatment
 - Priority will be given to those patients in a situation of little or no insurance.

This priority is not stating that simply because one has insurance they will not receive priority over someone else. Insurance can be present, but still have very costly attributes, i.e. high deductibles and prescription copays. Through proper description of their financial situation in the narrative of the application, patients are able to best present their need, even while having insurance.

We also recognize that certain treatments are not covered by insurance, i.e. experimental medications, clinical trials, etc.
- Patients that are US citizens or legal US residents, residents of Texas and currently undergoing treatment for any form of leukemia are still able to apply, but realize that we look at each application carefully to consider who will receive funding first.
